FIFTEEN CENTS

Teachers receive 8 percent increase

The Antioch Community Consolidated Grade School Board signed a contract with teachers, approving an 8.5 percent salary increase, along with separate action okaying an 8.5 increase for non-certified employees and an 8 percent increase for administration.

According to Supt. Donald Skidmore, the board approved the two-year contract that the teachers had earlier ratified, with no changes.

Skidmore told the board that he had been nominated by the Illinois Assn. of School Administrators (IASA) to be one of two public school administrators to be on a 10 member committee advising the state board on special education issues and data.

He said that he had given the board a tentative yes, and the board approved his appointment if he decided to take the position. He said it would entail being absent from the district four or five days a year.

Ted Costoff to head Ace Hardware chain

TED COSTOFF

Ted Costoff of Antioch has been named chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Ace Hardware Corp.

He replaces Arthur H. Krausman who will retire June 30.

Costoff, who owns Ace Hardware stores in Antioch, Richmond and Delevan has been an owner and director of Ace Hardware since 1978.

He is a graduate of Bryant and Stratton Business College, was a partner in a Certified Grocery from 1949-1955 and joined Ace Hardware in 1957.

His responsibilities as chairman and chief executive officer will include coordinating board activities, committees and policies.

Lawrence R. Gavin, president and chief operating officer, will continue to manage the day-to-day operations of the company.

During Krausman's tenure as president, which ran since 1974, the corporation added over 1,500 new Ace dealers and more than doubled the number of distribution centers which now total 10, one of which is currently under construction. The corporation has over 4,200 dealer-members.

Hitting highlights for Antioch included Les Zitkus' two-run homer and single; Vince Gawrecki's triple and single and Brad Herbst's two for two.

Craig Prather and Mike Evans had RBI singles. John Humphrey and Mahar also contributed singles to the victory.

Rtes. 173, 59

Lane usage, speed, vexes village board

The large increase in traffic on Rte. 173, especially at the intersection of Rte. 59, the location of the new Jewel-Osco, has changed the outlook of the Antioch Village Board on the reconstruction planned for that intersection.

The board is concerned because the state, which is funding 10 percent of the project (the federal government picking up the other 90 percent of the tab), refuses to pay for a deceleration lane when the approved plans call for the present deceleration lane, between the intersection and running towards Tiffany Rd., to be made into a regular west-bound lane.

The speed limit will be 40 miles per hour on that lane and the present westbound lane will become a left-hand turn lane.

It is the traffic increase on Rte. 173, because of the Jewel-Osco access road off of that highway, that seems to be the real problem.

The state traffic survey that denies the need for a deceleration lane is a 10-year-old one based on much less traffic.

Because it was the board's opinion that the problem would not be worsened by said engineering plan, the members signed the engineering plan at the board's last regular meeting in order to expedite the construction of the new lights slated for that locale, but attached a letter of protest to it.

HAPPY HOLIDAY

Cut choking weeds

Wisconsin drainage polluting channel?

by GLORIA DAVIS

The members of the Oakwood Knolls Property Owners' Assn. are a little upset by the discovery of what might be a pipe, running from the Wisconsin side of the border, that seems to be draining muddy water into the channel area of Cross Lake.

According to Bud Hohs, property owners' association, it is thought that the pipe might be draining water from fields in back of homes on 128 St., Bridgeport Dr., in Salem Township.

"That property was covered with water during the heavy spring rains," said Hohs.

He added that it is also a possibility that the water is full of fertilizers from the fields that add to the contamination of the lake and eventually the Chain O'Lakes which it empties into.

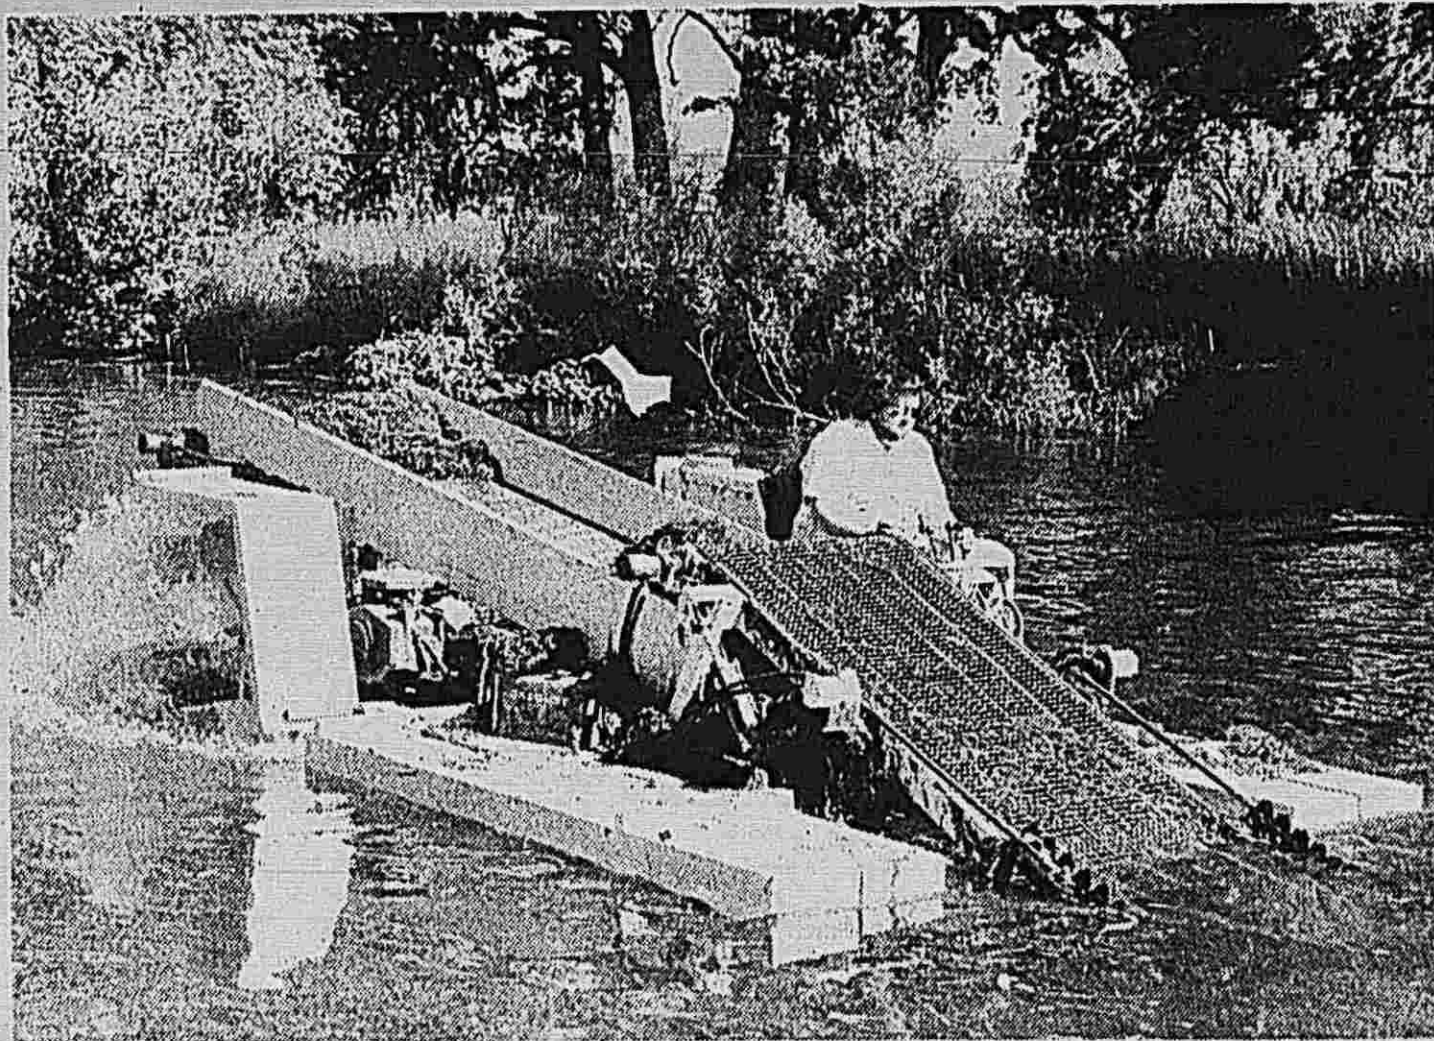

lies into.

The Oakwood Knolls residents reported their fears to Vern Barnstable of the Antioch Board who serves on the board committee which would handle that sort of situation.

According to Hohs, Barnstable has been in touch with both the Salem Township Highway Commissioner Russel Hoel and the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources in an effort to trace and solve the problem.

Meanwhile the problem of the thick weed growth in the channel has been taken care of by using a weed cutter to discourage foliage growth. The cutter was rented at a cost of $750.

The possibility that the drainage, if it contains fertilizers, has fed the weed growth has been brought up.

Await verdict on expansion

by GLORIA DAVIS

The court proceedings between the Village of Antioch and Waste Management, Inc., seem to be suffering the soap opera syndromes of never ending and always continuing chapters.

On June 16 the village issued a temporary restraining order to stop the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) from issuing Waste Management a permit allowing the disposal company to implement a proposed 50-foot vertical expansion at the HOD site in Antioch.

The IEPA had already issued that permit on June 15.

The restraining order was also issued against Waste Management's physical operation on that expansion.

A hearing was held on Friday, June 24, in Lake County Court in front of Judge Bernard Drew on the injunction.

The matter was continued and will be heard at 10:30 a.m., on Wednesday, June 29, in front of Judge William Block.

Barnes gets probation, work release program

Barnes had been found guilty of both of these counts by a Lake County jury and sentencing was carried out by Judge William Block on Thursday, June 23.

Block also ordered Barnes to pay $255 plus in court costs.

Barnes, who has been released on probation, will start serving his sentence on Sept. 11.

Block ordered Barnes released from work program during his appeal process.

Scott Barnes, 29, Oak Lawn, was sentenced to 30 months of supervised probation and 500 hours of public service employment for the reckless homicide of Mary Carney, 41, in a car accident on Nov. 18.

He also received an additional one year of supervised probation and four months on a public work release program because he was found guilty of driving while intoxicated at the time of the accident.

QUESTION BACKGROUND

We feel the article that Gloria Davis wrote and which was published in the Antioch News on May 23, 1983 was misleading and a disservice to the community and school district.

Everyone involved in the negotiations process which includes the Board of Education, Administration, and Teachers have worked very hard this year to:

1. Maintain open communications
 2. Maintain a positive and professional atmosphere
 3. Build better relationships throughout the district.
- We believe we have accomplished what we set out to do. Namely, we have worked on our differences and very successfully and satisfyingly solved our problems.

We would like to know the purpose for the following statements by Gloria Davis:

1. Mentioning past problems and singling out one person for the cause of previous problems in the district.
2. Taking a positive outcome that relates to the education of the children in this community and choosing to report old problems and to speculate that our agreement was surprising and unexpected based upon last year's contractual problems.

At a time of this state's shaky financial situation, we do not understand the irresponsible journalism which distorts the truth and downgrades the positive accomplishments of our agreement.

We would hope in future articles you will write what does happen as opposed to what you thought might have happened.

POOR EXAMPLE

To The Editor:

As the team manager of the Antioch Little League Dodgers, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the blonde-haired lady, sitting in her big blue car. She was yelling and distracting the players in the outfield during the game between the Tigers and the Dodgers.

Her comments were told to us by my players, such as she was going to have them kicked off the team and league due to their poor sportsmanship. Also she made comments as to the way the pitcher would get into his stance.

It should be noted that her comments were heard by both players and parents who were sitting in their cars near her.

The Little League Pledge says: "I trust in God. I love my Country and will respect its laws. I will play fair and strive to win, but win or lose I will always do my best."

So blonde-haired lady, it's too bad you can't be a mature adult, and try to remember that children learn by example. Nowadays we parents are trying very hard to bring our children up to respect others, however conduct such as yours makes this job extremely difficult.

Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. Laurel D. Powles of Ridge Manor, Fla., former Antioch residents, celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary.

In the June 20, 1934 edition of the Antioch News an article ran concerning the fact that Antioch Village Treasurer Laurel Powles had forgotten to sign the village treasurer's sworn statement when he took off that weekend to be married.

Quote the News, "When a man's rushing into matrimony and it's near the zero hour, can you blame him for a slight business oversight? Answer - NO!"

Hooray! Bernie Gunty hit his first homerun in many, many, many, many, years at Furlan's Dugout when he smashed one over the monster left-field fence following three triples hit the week before.

Gunty was heard to say these also would have been homeruns but he simply ran out of oxygen.

I hear that members of Antioch AARP Chapter really enjoyed their June Day On The Farm with all the other Lake County AARP members.

Attending were Esther Aiani, assistant state director, John Bednar, Vickie Bock, Ann and John Wenclawski.

Did you know that more than 1,300 children of veterans have been, or are being cared in the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home in Eaton Rapids, Mich.

A portion of that cost is raised through the sale of VFW Buddy Poppys which will be on sale in Antioch on July 1 and 2.

Awards based on high poker hand scoring were won June 22 by Irene Teresi, Henrietta Albergo, Mary Hallette and Chris Berles.

Dolores Abderholden arranged the first monthly luncheon on that day at which time previous winners received their awards. Lunch was served at Spring Valley Country Club, where golf is played.

Mental health dance makes $5,770 profit

The Antioch Mental Health Assn. met at the Library on June 13.

Dorothy Teister reported that the Cotillion, which was held on May 21, at The Abbey on Lake Geneva, realized a profit of $5,770.

She said 275 tickets were sold. These profits will all be used to help the handicapped in the area.

Dolores Abderholden, president, introduced Kathy LaBuda of the Antioch Library to report on a new project that the Antioch Mental Health Assn. is planning to start at the library.

The project is to order special learning material for children who are having learning problems or who are retarded. All children in the Antioch area are welcome to use these materials as long as a parent is with them to check it out.

Jean Stanley and Annette Lubkeman will also be assisting in this program. More publicity will follow on this project.

Louise Vos announced that $25 would be sent to Grove School in memory of Gus Costoff.

Ruth Jedel prepared a statement of the donations of the Mental Health Assn. since its beginning in 1967. A total of $212,568 was donated. This was broken down as $19,000 to the Lake County Mental Health Assn., Lambs Farm in Libertyville received $25,900, Riverside Foundation in Lincolnshire received $11,000, Grove School in Lake Forest received $153,968 and $2,700 was donated to other miscellaneous causes related to mental health.

Xerography, the dry copying process, was invented in 1937 by Chester Carlson.

Teachers

He said the advantage of holding the position would be that he would be able to represent the superintendent's viewpoint in special education matters.

The board set new rates for at-home or in-hospital tutoring and substitute pay. It approved a rate of $11 per hour for tutoring and $40 per day for substitutes for the 1983-84 school year.

The board gave its okay to a proposed parenting program that will be offered during the next school year by Geri Tany Schatz, the district's learning disabilities teacher and program supervisor. Parents would be charged a fee that would cover cost of the materials and for a stipend to Schatz. Skidmore said a similar program was conducted in the Gavin School District and proved successful.

The board approved Skidmore's appointment as an Institute for the Development of Educational Activities fellow, which will meet at Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. He will be absent from July 10 to July 16.

The board approved the purchase of a used pick-up truck for the district at a cost of $3,900. The board will be reimbursed $2,700 from the state for the purchase. The truck will be used for construction and as a service vehicle for servicing buses on the road.

The board accepted the resignations of Valerie Coffman, language arts teacher at the Upper Grade School and hired Ross McDonald to take her place. The board also hired Debbie Izzo as the new district psychologist and accepted the resignation of Cathy Moore, librarian at Antioch Upper Grade School.

Ask Dr. Sven by Robert T. Sven B.S.D.D.S. DENTAL SPECIALISTS

Q: I'm confused about the roles of dental specialists. Could you please define them?

A: These are the most commonly known specialists:

PEDODONTISTS specialize in the teeth and mouth of children, birth through adolescence. Also treat handicapped and those with special needs.

ENDODONTISTS treat disease of the dental pulp, usually with root canal therapy.

ORTHODONTISTS prescribe and fit braces to straighten teeth, correct bite and jaw alignment, and improve health and appearance.

PROSTHODONTISTS fit and design bridgework and dentures, and design substitutes for missing oral tissue.

PERIODONTISTS treat gum disease.

ORAL & MAXILLOFACIAL SURGEONS extract teeth, treat injuries, diseases, deformities of mouth, jaw and face, i.e., cleft lip and palate, broken jaw.

ORAL PATHOLOGISTS do lab tests, examine biopsy materials to diagnose oral problems.

DENTAL PUBLIC HEALTH SPECIALISTS are public health educators in care and prevention of dental disease.

After Hours Treatment Available In Emergencies

When I think about it Ain't progress grand!

by GLORIA DAVIS

No one could be a greater devotee of the many work easing disposable products now in use than I am.

But somehow, for me, it seems that most bits of progress that I utilize put me two steps ahead and three back. The fact is that their cost, normally high enough, seems to escalate a hundredfold when I go to pay the bill.

For instance, I've done away with most of the dishwashing in my house by using paper plates (with bamboo underliners of course for sturdiness and a bit of South Seas class). And since my microwave is my cooking mainstay, these also serve as my pots and pans, ergo out with the SOS pads and the pot scrubbers.

The only problem is that my family keeps getting slivers from the bamboo, all my silverware seems to be disappearing and I have my suspicions that most of it goes the way of the dirty paper plates.

Forget the pain involved but consider the cost of needles, antiseptic, all those garbage bags and new silverware.

Then we have my push button new convertible which we so frugally purchased at 8.7 percent interest, actually making our ever-continuing car payment less. In the first few weeks I've thrown away the cost of three hairdos, ruined as I frantically unsnapped the boot and tried to zip the back window shut during a few sudden flood-like cloudbursts.

Add to this unhappy list the nails I broke trying to snap the roof back into place, cleaning bills for two soaked and wrinkled unwashable dresses and the cost of the tranquilizers I had to take in preparation for my husband's noticing of the first scratch on the trunk which came from "I know not where."

And isn't it wonderful that grandmothers can now look younger with all the hair dyes and beauty aids at their fingertips and can even go out and "find their true identity," by getting a job after years of homework drudgery done for the family masses.

Most of my friends that have done this have never worked harder and for longer hours in their whole lives.

Aren't we lucky we're more progressive than our mother's generation when little was expected of gray-haired grandmas but a little chair rocking, a home-baked loaf of bread or two and a smattering of playing with the grandchildren.

Remember the stories of those elders who took over a half-hour to walk to school three miles a day "through rain and wind and sleet and snow?"

Many of today's modern children are lucky enough to ride the school bus for over an hour to a school across town when one (not in their district of course) is visible from their backyards.

Then there is the wonderful invention of pantyhose that freed women forever from girdle-squished ribs.

Gone are the tainting couches to be replaced by the leather one in the pediatricist's office used while waiting to be treated for squished toes and ingrown toenails caused by the stress of stretch stockings geared to fit both size four and size 10 feet.

The many questionable bits of progress run the gamut of miracle drugs that have side effects worse than the disease they are meant to cure to soaps with whiteners that leave blue streaks on your best white linen tablecloth.

But progress is here to stay I'm afraid for after all "he that does not go ahead slides backwards."

Yet doesn't the thought of sliding anyhow sound like smooth, comfortable fun?

Some people believe that if an ant covers the hole to his anthill, rain is on its way.

"For year around comfort and economy, I believe the electric heat pump is the wave of the future. That's why our Cambridge West model incorporates this newest advance in energy conservation."

Richard J. Brown, President
Cambridge Homes, Inc.

Meet Richard J. Brown—one of the conservation-minded builders who are installing flameless electric heat pumps.

With the cost of all forms of energy on the rise today, smart home buyers are looking for energy-saving features—features like those found in Cambridge West—to keep expenses down.

Built to keep heat inside in winter, outside in summer.

The Energy Smart home here is a comfortable world of its own that protects you from hot summers and cold winters.

The ceiling is insulated to a rating of R-30, the walls to R-13. The windows are double glazed, creating a protective barrier of air. All exterior openings are weather-stripped and caulked.

Heating and cooling by an electric heat pump produces more energy than it uses.

Some furnaces make heat by burning scarce fuels. The Energy Smart model homes at Cambridge West use the electric heat pump to capture heat from the sun—heat that's already present in the outside air even on cloudy, cold winter days. Over the entire heating season, it produces at least 50% more energy than it uses. In summer the heat pump is a central air conditioner that pumps out heat to keep you cool.
